In this time of great need, Waco Foundation is here for our community. We know the current situation is difficult and disruptive for many of our citizens. Through it all, Waco Foundation remains solid in our commitment to listen, help and support. By safeguarding Waco's charitable assets, we ensure our community will emerge from this time of hardship stronger and more resilient.

Waco Foundation designed our investment strategy to protect the long-term value of our community's philanthropic funds and the causes they support. Founded more than 65 years ago, the Foundation is no stranger to difficult times that include market volatility. Our Investment Committee is working diligently with our investment consultant, Neuberger Berman, to monitor market conditions and the Foundation's investments. We will bring updates to our donors and fundholders as they become available.

Now more than ever, it is an honor to partner with our community as we navigate these unprecedented times. Together, we will make it through this challenge and create a brighter future for our citizens.

FOR WACO. FOREVER.
